Fraud

On August 28th a Brookdale Condo resident reported at the Police Desk that she had been the victim of a fraud. The victim reported that she had located a home for rent on Craigslist and contacted the alleged owner via text. The owner advised the victim that she had to pay a deposit of $550 and a date was arranged for the victim to view the home. The victim sent the money via “CashApp” and was soon notified by her Credit Union that they believed she had been scammed. The victim requested her money back and soon learned that the suspect had blocked her on CashApp and disconnected his phone. The case was turned over to the detective bureau for further investigation.
